DROUGHT BROKEN

A STEADY DOWNPOUR SO FAR, AND MORE TONIGHT.

WATER FAMINE IS OVER

There is plenty of water now and all the necessary for general use.

If J. Platts will keep up his present gait away county will forget all about the drought. There was on Wednesday evening and Thursday morning a fine soaking downpour, amounting to .33 of an inch up to 7 o'clock this morning. The rain after that time was morning was a good one and showers are predicted for tonight.

The rain of yesterday, with the rain of Tuesday night, amounted to nearly an inch and a quarter, and has helped greatly the fall pastures and the wells. The river, which has been nearly dry now has plenty of water and there is no more danger of water shortage at the present time. Full light service is being given and plenty of ice is being made here. So Maryville is now forgetting all about the water and the famine of the past week.

The rain has put the soil in good condition for the sowing of winter wheat. Farmers are preparing now for seedling.

The rain was general over this section of the country and in the county, as much rain falling as in Maryville. The creeks and ditches and rivers all had plenty of water today.

SO SHE FINISHED HER ANSWER.

A Macon Girl Got a Chance to Depose as Counsel Wished.

A young woman of Kirksville was giving her deposition yesterday at Macon to be used in a slander suit filed in the Macon circuit court. She was a good-natured witness, and did her best to answer the questions promptly and fully. The witness had stated, while being examined by D. R. Hughes for the defendant, that she had gone out of the room where the persons at interest were in order to get a drink of water.

"You say, Miss Carrigan, that you left the room where these people were?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"Yes, sir, as I told you, I went out into the kitchen to get a drink of water. A—"

"How long were you there?"

"Object!" shouted James Rieger of plaintiff's counsel. "He's not giving the witness a chance to finish her answer."

"She had answered the question fully," retorted Mr. Hughes.

"No, she hadn't!" protested Mr. Rieger. "Let the stenographer read her answer."

The answer, as far as given, was read.

"I told you!" cried Mr. Rieger. "She had more to add to her answer!"

"This you are to put some more to your answer, Miss Carrigan?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"No—I have that's all."

"But you started to say something," insisted Rieger, "when that lawyer over there asked so fast he cut you off. I wish you would finish your answer; it may be important to this case."

The witness hesitated, smiled and replied:

"I was just going to say a fellow has to have a drink now and then, you know."

RAINS CHECK THE CATTLE RUN.

With 30,000 Head Behind Last Week Prices Are Higher—Hogs, Also, Are Up.

Indications at the Kansas City stock yards Wednesday were that the big run of cattle to the markets has been definitely checked. Fourteen thousand cattle were received Wednesday, but the total for the three days this week is thirty thousand below the total for the same days last week. The prices are 15 cents higher.

Hogs are higher than at any time in the last two months.

USED AUTO LIGHTS

THRESHERS AT H. BELLOWS' FARM WORKED AT NIGHT.

AFRAID OF THE RAIN

Electric Light Wires Stretched From Barn to Machine—Threshed Until 11 o'Clock.

Such a thing as union hours have been unknown to the threshers in this part of the country this year, and many times the men did not stop work until darkness forced them to. Never until last Monday was the work continued into the night until finished. This happened on the farm of Harold Bellows, southwest of Maryville. The men worked by the light of automobile lamps and electric lights, and it was not until 10:30 p. m. that the last sheaf was run through the separator. At 11 o'clock the men sat down to supper.

Mr. Bellows had been unable to get his grain threshed earlier in the season, and being afraid it would rain before the work could be finished the next day, this method was taken to overcome the difficulty. Mr. Bellows elevated his automobile on planks in such a way as to throw the light from the lamps into the loft of the barn, where the straw was being moved. Electric light wires were stretched from the barn to the threshing machine and incandescent lamps furnished the light there. By working all day Monday and until 10:30 at night the entire crop of fifty acres of oats was threshed. It averaged thirty-two bushels to the acre.

TWO CENTS A MILE.

Utilities Commission Rules Collection of Higher Fare Unlawful.

The Missouri public service commission yesterday ruled that it is unlawful for a railroad to charge more than two cents a mile for transporting passengers who fail to buy tickets before they board a train.

In order to induce passengers to buy tickets, the commission agreed to a penalty of 10 cents to be collected from passengers paying on the trains. This penalty is to be refunded on application at the general office of the railroads.

Heretofore the railroads have been charging 3 cents a mile for persons paying their fares on the train.

Hopkins Picnic Next Week.

Hopkins' annual picnic will be held this year Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 18, 19 and 20, in the new park. The committee in charge hopes to make it the best picnic yet held, and numerous attractions are being engaged. Among them are the Lenox, Ia., band, a vaudeville company from Omaha, the Apollo Ladies Quartet of Kansas City, a moving sidewalk, bowling alleys, the man with the alligator and baby racks.

Mrs. Charles Pennington returned to her home in Hopkins Thursday noon, after a few days' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Corwin. Mrs. A. M. Wright of Chicago, who accompanied Mrs. Pennington to Maryville, will remain for a longer visit with her brother, Mr. Corwin.

SUES INSURANCE COMPANY.

Miss Elizabeth Prather Brings Action for Loss Sustained by Fire of Her Residence.

Suit was brought Thursday by Miss Elizabeth Prather against the Connecticut Fire Insurance company of New Hartford, Conn., for damages. The amount of the suit is for $4,000 with 6 per cent interest from date of fire, and for $400 damages for defendant's vexatious delay and refusal to pay, and $500 as attorney's fees.

The petition states that the Prather house, on West Second street, belonging to the plaintiff, was destroyed by fire on January 31, 1913, and the loss thereof was $4,000. Insurance to this amount was had in defendant's company. After being requested to pay the amount, the defendant did vexatiously, willfully and without reasonable cause, refuse to pay the same, so states the petition.

IS A MENACE.

Boys' Increasing Use of Autos One of the Most Serious Evils.

"The increasing use of the motor car by boys of high school age is one of the most serious evils we have to face in the juvenile court work."

"Fast going leads to fast living; and the rich parents who permit their sons to drive automobiles at late hours of the night are doing greater injury to their boys than to the unfortunate girls who fall victims to their blandishments."

"The tendency now is to put every safeguard about the daughters of the wealthy, but to permit the sons to run wild."

"No father should permit his son to use his motor car at night unless the parent knows where he is going; and the curfew law should be applied even more rigorously as to youthful joy riders than to the boys on the street."

"If parents put the proper restraint about their children there would be no need of the juvenile court."

So spoke Judge Porterfield of the Kansas City juvenile court in regard to the increasing number of youthful crimes directly attributable to the use of the automobile.

The past few months the people of Kansas City have been startled by reading of the pranks and crimes committed by boys in motor cars. A son of a rich man ran away from home in his father's motor car. The downfall of Meta Zook, the Westport high school girl, it was testified, resulted from several trips in automobiles with classmates who had wealthier parents. In fact, the juvenile court and the criminal courts have had a large number of just such cases, and the motor car is blamed in each instance. In many of these cases the offenders have been high school boys.

"I am not talking against the use of the motor car, but of its abuse," Judge Porterfield said. "Boys who are permitted to use their parents' cars indiscriminately soon develop lazy and licentious habits. Invariably they lose interest in their studies and school work. They learn to smoke cigarettes and to drink. And the same baneful influences that are found in the low type pool halls surround the boy in the motor car."

"Fast traveling seems to make these boys crave fast living. Their nervous system becomes high strung. The ordinary things of life cease to appeal to them. They crave excitement and the unusual things."

"No, I do not think that society is harmed so much by the injury done the girls who accompany these boys on joy rides as by the harm done the boys themselves. For the indiscriminate use of the motor car is tearing down the mental and moral fabric of our future business men, and the future captains of finance. The moral strain, so it might be called, on these boys, is constant, and in most instances, but not in the case of most girls who go on these joy rides, the boys come from homes with careful, but too indulgent parents."

"I would urge that parents restrict their sons in the use of their motor cars, especially after night. Over indulgence in any pleasure causes a loss in the power of moral resistance, and instead of building up a race of mental and physical giants to take up the work where their fathers left off the country will have a class of nervous, snobbish and under-trained young men. The royal road to success is seldom traveled in a motor car. And the fathers of these boys in most cases earned what they have today by hard work, and not by dissipating the powers and opportunities afforded them when young men themselves."

Swallowed a Pin.

Kennie Butts, a little girl who lives three miles west of Hopkins, was in danger of choking to death Tuesday evening when a pin which she swallowed lodged in her throat. A doctor was sent for, but the girl's father succeeded in dislodging the pin before he arrived. Although the pin went on into the child's stomach, it is believed nothing serious will result.

ALL EFFORTS FAIL

TO VERIFY RUMOR OF SHORTAGE IN ACCOUNTS.

NO DEFINITE ANSWER

C. F. Lippman Says That It's Up to the Home Office to Answer Question.

All efforts on the part of The Democrat-Forum to verify the rumors that are being heard today to the effect that shortages in the accounts of the Field-Lippman piano store and the treasury of the Christian Science church have been found since the disappearance of H. R. Hancock, one week ago yesterday, have failed. It has also been impossible to substantiate a rumor that the Field-Lippman company is trying to locate Mr. Hancock.

When a reporter said this morning to Charles F. Lippman, who is temporarily managing the store, "Is it true that there is a shortage in the business here?" he answered:

"I have nothing to say about that; that is for the home office at St. Louis to say."

Asked then as to whether or not the company was trying to locate Mr. Hancock, Mr. Lippman answered as before:

"I have nothing to say about that."

Ralph Eversole was asked about the condition of the finances of the church, of which Hancock was treasurer. He said:

"I cannot say. The books have not been gone over yet; they stand just as Mr. Hancock left them."

Mrs. Hancock is some better today. Friends and neighbors have been able to quiet her nervous condition to some extent. She has succeeded in selling the larger part of her furniture and will leave for Kansas City just as soon as the rest can be disposed of.

FILES CORPORATION PAPERS.

Hopkins Park and Entertainment Company Capitalized for $2,000—$1,165 Actually Paid Up.

Incorporation papers were filed Thursday morning in Recorder J. Arthur Wray's office for the Hopkins park and entertainment company. The company is capitalized at $2,000, with 400 shares of par value of $5 a share. Of the capital stock, $1,165 is actually paid up.

The board of directors of the corporation are C. E. Donlin, J. C. Pistole, Fred Herbert, W. C. Morehouse, W. L. Moorhead and S. E. Browne, all of Hopkins.

The company is formed to purchase grounds at Hopkins for a park and to manage, rent, sell and take care of such grounds and to hold Chautauques, picnics and other gatherings, meetings and entertainments of or for the people of Hopkins and vicinity.

The park company purchased the Aiken grounds as their park some time ago and have improved the grounds to a certain extent.

DOUBLE FREIGHT SERVICE.

Freight Business on the Burlington Has Been Very Heavy the Past Two Weeks.

The Burlington for the past two weeks has been running double freight service each way to accommodate the business. The service is still being continued, and Agent W. E. Goforth says he don't know how much longer it will keep up. This speaks well for this section of the country during the drought.

The Burlington is also ballasting the track from Creston to St. Joseph. They are intending to improve the roadbed.

CEMENT WORK NOT STARTED.

Pouring of Cement Into New Dam Delayed—Rain Will Not Stop Work.

The work of pouring the cement into the new dam did not begin this morning. City Engineer Flynt and his men worked until noon cleaning out the site preparatory to beginning the cement work, but nothing was done this afternoon. The rains have caused a slight rise in the river, but not enough to hinder the work in any way.

The board of public works is trying to get a Mr. Taylor from Villisca to come here and sink the test wells, but they have not heard from him yet.

WRITES FROM CHINA.

Miss Dora C. Otis, a Hopkins Girl, Feels Very Much at Home in That Country.

Miss Dora C. Otis, a graduate of the Maryville high school and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Otis of this city, has written a letter from Soochow, China, to the Hopkins Journal. Miss Otis' parents live in Hopkins. The letter is as follows:

Soochow, China, Aug. 6, 1913.—Since I came to China, three years ago, I have been wanting to write to you through the columns of the Hopkins Journal. I have been so interested in reading in this paper about the people whom I knew before I came to China.

I feel very much at home now with these yellow people and have come to have a very warm feeling in my heart for a number of them. I have grown accustomed to their peculiar language and strange ways. It does not seem at all queer now to ride along the streets of Shanghai in a ricksha drawn by an iron muscled Chinese coolie, or along the narrow streets of Soochow in a sedan chair on the shoulders of other oriental athletes.

But I have not become quite accustomed to the Chinese food. I have eaten all manner of things—birds' nest soup, shark fins, sea slugs, pigeon eggs, balls of dough stuffed with meat, duck tongues, and many other things incapable of being expressed in the English language. Sometimes I have had to think hard about something more pleasant while I am eating, but I have found nothing yet which is really impossible. I have not become so proficient yet with the chop sticks as the Chinese are, but quite proficient enough for my own purposes. But it is only when we are invited out by our Chinese friends that we have to eat Chinese food. Our regular diet in our own home does not differ much from that of the people of Hopkins. We have a garden of our own and have fresh vegetables and blackberries, raspberries and strawberries in season.

We do not have many hardships to endure. Our life in China at the present time is full of interest. Some of the greatest changes are taking place here that have ever taken place in so short a time in the history of the world.

I enjoy very much my own work in the Soochow industrial school, and feel sure that mission work in China is abundantly worth while. It is very gratifying, indeed, to see the change that comes into the faces and lives of the Chinese girls and women as they become Christians. When they first come to us their faces are stolid and hopeless. Even if they smile, it is a kind of a stereotyped smile without much happiness in it. After they become Christians there is new brightness and hope and real beauty and strength of character.

Yours cordially,

DORA C. OTIS.

The County and the Town.

This sensible editorial is from the pen of Colonel Charles W. Green, editor of the Brookfield Argus.

"When the farmers of this community hold a meeting in this town the townspeople should be invited, and when invited should attend. Not only will they be interested and entertained but opportunity will be afforded by this meeting of town and country for the discussion and consideration of this community's good. We are all interested in that; we are dependent on it. The value of the farmer's land increases or decreases as this town thrives or not. The town is one of its assets, a part of its wealth.

"Likewise, the man in town must be the friend and aid of the farmer. If he does not help the farmer in any way that is in his power he hurts the town. He should vote for and be willing to pay taxes for the improvement of the highways of the county, that the farmer may move his crops cheaply and that communication in the country may be made easy. He should be for every movement that will make farming in this community more profitable and pleasant. We are living here together, town and country, and we should work together for each other's good.

"If an occasional farmer has thoughtlessly sent his money away to mail order houses for goods of doubtful quality, thereby bleeding this community and indirectly depreciating the value of his land and of his nearest market, it may be because the economic error of such a course has never occurred to him. If impractical theorists, speaking either intentionally or unconsciously in the interest of the mail order houses, have ingratiated or intruded themselves into the farmers' meetings and have talked about the 'elimination of the middle-man' a thing that would ruin both town values and farm values in this community it may be because the townspeople have not been present to indicate his error and refute his argument. meetings of the farmers may be as much the town's fault as theirs.

A Great Idea.

A new work is just out, gotten up purposely for busy men and women who want to get the most out of life. Naturally, you would like to read the best things that have been written by the best authors, but, in order to do so it would be necessary for you to spend a large portion of time reading complete volumes and sets. You would have neither the time nor the inclination to go through this tedious task—at the same time it would be a source of great pleasure and satisfaction for you to know that you had the knowledge which you would derive after reading all these works.

Now, the object of this new work is to accomplish this very thing, i. e., to give you this knowledge and entertainment without necessitating your wading through all that the authors have written. No man living is more competent to do this for you than John L. Stoddard, who is recognized by the leading scholars and thinkers of our age as being the "Wizard of Selection." The Stoddard Library contains the best that has been written by 409 of the world's greatest authors.

I have examined Mr. Stoddard's Library with some care, and take pleasure in endorsing the general principle of its selection as well as the actual results which have been achieved. The alphabetical arrangement is particularly happy, and turns the work into an encyclopedia with generous illustrations.—Dr. Harold DeWitt Fuller, Dept. of Comparative Literature, Harvard University.

BAD ROADS COST $2 AN ACRE.

Farm Success Demands Good Highways, a University President Says.

"Good roads are a necessary element in the success of agriculture." This was the statement of Henry S. Baker, president of the University of Kentucky, at the farm barbecue recently given by Johnson N. Camden at his country estate near Versailles, Ky. Mr. Baker also spoke of the high tax paid for the privilege of having bad roads.

"It is in vain that the farmer produces abundant crops, if he cannot get them to the markets," said Mr. Baker. "Within the memory of men now living corn was burned for fuel in Illinois because it could not, for lack of transportation, be carried to market, and because, for the same reason, other fuel could not be conveyed to the farmers on the great prairies. Transportation is the key to the treasury of the world—I had almost said, to the ownership of the world. There can be no such thing as prosperity or cultivation without intercourse among men.

"The Scriptures teach that it is not good for man to dwell alone. Intercourse means culture, wealth, progress. Isolation means ignorance, stagnation, death. The world has always grown and prospered most and best along the lines of the easiest and cheapest transportation.

"Good roads, then, are a necessary element in the success of agriculture. I have seen the statement that bad roads cost the farmers who are forced to use them about $2 an acre for each acre of their farms, annually. In other words, every farmer in the country pays an annual tax of $2 for each acre of his farm for the privilege of having bad roads. This tax he seems to pay willingly and as a matter of course, without any grumbling whatever. A tax of 25 cents an acre, paid in money, would give him perfect roads. But a proposition to do this would raise a storm of protest. And so we will go on, year by year, losing $1.75 an acre indirectly by bad roads, rather than pay 25 cents an acre for good roads.

To Parents.

Have you examined John L. Stoddard's new work, the Library, and do you realize what this work would mean in your home? Your children come to you constantly for information; they ask you a thousand and one questions on every subject; they look upon you as a walking encyclopedia. You must be prepared to answer their questions; you don't dare to tell them "I don't know," and take the chances of destroying their confidence in you. The entertainment that "The Stoddard Library" provides for the whole family is in itself worth more than the whole work. Two hundred evenings of wholesome entertainment is something worth considering. Just think what it would cost to give the family that many evenings at the theater or even the picture show and then compare the result of the two hundred evenings spent at the shows, with the same number of evenings spent in reading this for recreation. The time spent in reading the Stoddard Library for the mere pleasure, will be more profitable and the benefit more lasting than if the same time were spent in hard study.

Realizing as I do that in these days it is worry rather than actual work that kills, that intellectual study actually promotes life, and that one can find in good literature a solace for loneliness, a source of inspiration in difficulties and a host of never failing friends, I gladly avail myself of the opportunity afforded me to say a word of commendation of the Stoddard Library. Here within the reach of even the poor man's purse, we have many of the greatest masterpieces of the greatest minds of all ages supplied by a man whose name is of itself sufficient recommendation.—Rev. M. M. O'Shea, Petaluma, Cal.

THAW FIGHTS EXTRADITION

Fugitive Barricaded in Hotel at Colebrook, N. H.

ASKS FOR SPECIAL GUARDS.

Makes Request When He Hears of Jerome's Coming—Free for Three Hours and Rides Fifty Miles Through Hills—Wires Lawyers.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 11.—Harry K. Thaw, fugitive from Matteawan, slept on American soil last night, barricaded in a hotel room here, after one of the most exciting days of his career.

Thrust unexpectedly across the Canadian line, despite the writ of habeas corpus demanding his production before the king's bench in Montreal next Monday morning, he was a free man for three hours, and during that time drove madly in an automobile for fifty futile miles through the hills of Vermont and New Hampshire. He ran into the hands of a New Hampshire sheriff and was brought to Colebrook, where he retained counsel to resist extradition.

William Travers Jerome, rushed hither on a special train, is in charge of the case for New York state, seeking to have Thaw, as a ward of the state, returned to Matteawan. Thaw is "detained." Fearing kidnapping at the hands of officers from New York, he asked for a special guard, and Chief of Police Kelley swore in twelve special deputies, all armed. They are patrolling the streets about Thaw's hotel.

Arrested on Blanket Warrant.
As a matter of fact Thaw was arrested in his rooms on a complaint sworn to before Justice Morechauer in Dutchess county, New York, who has issued a blanket warrant charging Thaw and those who assisted him in his escape from Matteawan with conspiracy.

Today Judge Chamberlain will hear the application of Thaw's lawyers for a writ of habeas corpus. The fugitive has telegraphed lawyers far and near and purposes to fight the return to Matteawan to the bitter end. He is afraid of Jerome, however, and when he heard that his former prosecutor was coming asked for the special guards. L. U. Vorhaus of New York city, who, it is said, will conduct the battle against extradition, arrived from Fabyans, N. H. R. E. McInnes of Ottawa, one of the framers of the Canadian immigration law, under which Thaw was so unceremoniously deported, also is here.

His Removal Sudden.

Thaw's removal from the immigration quarters at Coaticook was sudden and dramatic. Three mysterious men, who said they represented C. J. Doherty, the Dominion minister of justice and acting minister of the interior, appeared before 8 o'clock. Thaw was asleep. They woke him up, commanded him to dress and, after a struggle, (Continued on page 4.)

GLASS DEFENDS CURRENCY BILL

Opens Debate on Measure on Floor of House.

OBJECTIONS TO BILL ANALYZED

Speaker Says Bankers Do Not Like It Because It Will Prevent Large Loans to Speculators--Hayes of California Speaks for Minority.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The administration currency bill started on its devious way to the statute books when Chairman Glass of the house banking committee and one of the fathers of the measure opened the currency debate in the house. In a long speech Mr. Glass expounded the principles underlying the bill and replied to various criticisms of the measure. The Democrats hope to conclude the general debate on the bill this week and begin its detailed consideration Monday.

Mr. Glass replied at length to the criticism that the federal reserve board, placed by the bill in control of the proposed financial system, would with its wide power be subject to political influences.

"There is no politics in this matter; there can be none. It is my earnest conviction, based on long and serious reflection, that no man can conceive, as none has yet pointed out, how any part of this system can be perverted to political uses," said he. "I happened to be present when an eminent banker suggested such a possibility to the present occupant of the executive chair, and heard this banker vainly challenged to show how it might be done. I shall not soon forget the emphasis with which the president of the United States declared that no man would ever be found who would be willing to imperil his reputation or tarnish his fame by so flagrant a prostitution of his high office."

Bankers Want to Speculate.
Mr. Glass declared that opposition to the bill by bankers was caused by the fact that the bill would sever the relations between banks and stock gambling.

"The whole fight of the great bankers is to drive us from our firm resolve to break down the artificial connection between the banking business of this country and the stock speculative operations in the money centers," he said. "The avowed purpose of this bill is to cure this evil. They do not want existing arrangements disturbed; they desire to perpetuate a fictitious, insincere system, sanctioned by law, but condemned by experience and bitterly offensive to the American people—a system which everybody knows encourages and promotes the worst description of stock gambling. The real opposition to this bill is not as to government control, on which we shall never yield; it is not as to the capital subscription required, which is precisely that of the Aldrich scheme unanimously indorsed by the American Bankers' association; it is not as to the 5 per cent dividend allowed member banks, the exact limit prescribed in the Aldrich bill.

"It is none of these things that vexes the big bankers. It is a loss of profits derived from a system which makes them the legal custodians of all the reserve funds of the country, $240,000,000 of which funds on the 24th day of November, 1912, they had put into the maelstrom of Wall street stock operations."

Representative Hayes (Cal.), ranking Republican member of the banking committee, opening debate for the Republicans, indorsed part of the bill, but attacked the provision allowing national banks only 5 per cent profit on their investment in the federal reserve banks.

Hundred Thousand in Jewels Stolen.
Chicago, Sept. 11.—Jewels said to be valued at more than $100,000 were stolen from the home of a millionaire resident of Winnetka, a north shore suburb. It was learned from private detectives who have been working on the case since the crime was committed a month ago.

JURY CHOSEN TO TRY DIGGS AND ATTORNEY

Convicted Man on Trial for Subornation of Perjury.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—Twelve men were chosen to try Maury I. Diggs, former state architect, and Attorney Charles B. Harris of Sacramento on a charge of subornation of perjury growing out of the white slave case in which Diggs was recently convicted. The taking of testimony began this morning.

"We should be able to rest our case this afternoon," said Prosecutor Matt Sullivan. "Miss Marsha Warrington and Miss Nellie Barton will be the chief witnesses for the government."

The prosecution will attempt to prove that Diggs and his attorney, Harris, asked Miss Barton to intercede with her friend, Marsha Warrington, following the Diggs-Caminetti flight to Reno, with a view of having Miss Warrington color her testimony that Diggs might escape conviction under the Mann act.

Sentence on Diggs and P. Drew Caminetti was postponed till Monday.

PERSONALITY BEYOND DEATH

Sir Oliver Lodge Says It Transcends Bodily Existence.

Birmingham, England, Sept. 11.—Published forecasts of the address of Sir Oliver Lodge, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, intimating that he would make statements of a startling character concerning immortality and the proof of life after death, although publicly denied by Sir Oliver himself, caused his address at the meeting of the association to be anticipated with lively interest and heard with profound attention.

His subject was "Continuity" and Sir Oliver, touching upon the question of life after death declared his conviction that "occurrences now regarded as occult can be examined and reduced to order by the methods of science carefully and persistently applied," and that "already the facts so examined have convinced me that memory and affection are not limited to that association with matter by which alone they can manifest themselves here and now, and the personality persists beyond bodily death."

AUTOLOADING SHOTGUNS

ANY way you look at it, the Autoloader is the highest development in modern shotgun design. It puts five loads at your disposal by merely pressing the trigger. It puts the recoil to useful work—to eject the empty and slip in the fresh shell. It saves the gunner's shoulder—rids his sport of annoyances—increases his shooting range.

Your danger is that in your enthusiasm over the autoloading principle, you may forget to insist on getting the finest embodiment of that principle—the Remington-UMC Autoloading Shotgun.

WAS FINE PARADE

FIFTEEN HUNDRED CHILDREN OF COUNTY IN PROCESSION.

SEEN BY BIG CROWD

Four Schools Tied for First Prize—
Each Will Receive $10—Moving Picture of Events Taken.

The Winners.
On representation:
Hardisty—Miss Mabel Carver, teacher.
Martha Washington—Miss Katherine McCaffrey, teacher.
Bloomfield—Miss Maud Marquis, teacher.
Baker—Miss Olive Leeper, teacher.
On distance:
Mt. Tabor—Thirty miles, Miss Margaret Hopper, teacher.
Mt. Vernon—Ten miles, Miss Hazel McComb, teacher.
Swallow—Seven and one-half miles, Miss Grace Pugh, teacher.
Ireland—Seven miles, Miss Mary Halasey, teacher.

Fifteen hundred school children of Nodaway county, making a procession six blocks long, marched around the business streets of Maryville Friday afternoon before the camera of the Pathe Weekly Moving Picture company, while the streets were lined with a big crowd of interested spectators. This was the principal event of the fall festival, and brought out the biggest crowd, as every event in which our public schools figure always does. The number in parade was only half the number expected by County Superintendent Oakerson, but it was a good representation when the weather is considered. The big storm over the entire county the night previous brought disappointment to thousands of children and older people who had confidently planned on coming. The roads were in bad condition and the great amount of automobile travel depended on had to be suspended for the day in hundreds of cases, while the train service was inaccessible to many, many others.

But the school the greatest distance from Maryville, the Mt. Tabor school, four miles north of Elmo, was easily represented on account of train service of easy access.

There are 7,000 children enrolled in the schools of Nodaway county and it would have been a wonderful sight if all could have been in line. Eight thousand of school age are enumerated.

Nearly all the schools represented in the parade Friday are accompanied by their teachers, some of whom had to summon assistance in caring for the little tots and keep them in line.

Four schools tied on the first prize, Hardisty, Martha Washington, Bloomfield and Baker, all the teachers and their pupils being in line, and Superintendent Oakerson has decided to give the prize of $10 to each of the four schools instead of dividing the $10 between them.

Highland school, taught by Miss Rose Shinabargar, missed being a winner in this class by one only.

One more prize was added to the prizes offered to schools coming the longest distance, the distance being determined by multiplying the number of pupils in the parade by the number of miles the school is from Maryville, the Ireland school coming in for a fourth prize of $2.50.

The parade was headed by the Maryville band and marched from the Empire theater to the corner of Main and Third streets, when it turned west on Third past The Democrat-Forum office to Buchanan street, thence north to Fourth, thence east on Fourth to Main street.

The Pathe picture of the procession was taken as it advanced from the Townsend grocery corner to the Nodaway Valley bank corner, the spectators on each side being roped back so that the view of the street and of each one in the procession will be perfectly plain. It was a happy looking crowd of boys and girls with their teachers, and everyone who saw it will look forward with interest for the pictures when they will be shown at the Empire theater. The pictures will be shown all over the country, wherever the Pathe pictures are given.

After the children had passed in the procession they congregated at the Empire theater to get their tickets to the picture show promised them by Manager Albert Kuchs.

And such a crowd as gathered in the Empire theater was not seen there before. A wriggling mass of happy, laughing children, each one the sweetest and cutest and prettiest and nicest in the world, of course, crowded the seats and aisles of the theater from orchestra pit to the topmost aisles and seats in the gallery, all excited, and many who had never seen a picture show standing on the tip of toe of expectancy, waited for the show to begin.

The theater seats about 700 people, but it is safe to say there were 1,200 in the theater Friday afternoon. Those turned away had to wait for the second show that followed in an hour.

And it was the most appreciative audience that had ever gathered in the Empire, too. The pictures were real to the little auditors and they greeted everything with the enthusiasm of base ball fans. Their awe was expressed in unconscious audible breathing, their joy with peals of laughter and applause in every way they could express it, and so on all day through, and the grown folks there took less notice of the pictures than they did of the children, whose various expression of emotion brought out by what they witnessed was of the most absorbing interest. They were fine pictures and Manager Kuchs certainly knew what to place before them.

It is hoped that this feature of the fall festival will be made an annual event, and that next year every pupil enrolled in Nodaway county's schools will be in procession.

The entire children's event was successful, although of not the large proportion expected by the county superintendent. It can be made much better by another year.

There is a good joke on Mr. Oakerson in connection with the parade. He was so busy helping the teachers in lining up the children and getting them started right and keeping the line straight that he had not observed where the moving picture man had stationed himself. He knew he was somewhere around, of course, and when the procession advanced down the block that had been cleared and roped off for the pictures to be taken of the children, Mr. Oakerson went down the line several times to speak to the children and remind them about keeping their places. He will be in evidence a right smart lot in the pictures, and several times he will be the whole thing, for he is squared around a number of times right in front of the camera. Some of the spectators thought Mr. Oakerson was doing what the movie man told him to do, but when he asked "Where was that picture fellow, anyway," about two hours after the parade was all over, they knew the part he will have in the Pathe picture was unpremeditated. He looked a little confused when he found out that he had circulated around a good deal, and no doubt he is wondering if he was wearing the placid expression a man should who is being mentioned for superintendent of public schools for the state of Missouri.

THE FOUR UMPIRES.

Egan of the American.

Photos by American Press Association.

In a most interesting article one of the best known baseball experts in the world compared the managers of the Giants and Athletics. He pointed out that they were of entirely different schools of baseball. McGraw is a fighter, umpire balter, and never gives in at any point. He no doubt gains the long end of many decisions by such tactics. On the other hand Mack is quiet and never raises a howl. He never allows his players to protest against a decision. But McGraw is up against a different proposition in the world's series. The umpiring is the best there is, and no complaints are tolerated a moment. Here are the men who are the arbiters: Rigler and Klem of the National League at the top and Connolly and Egan of the American League at the bottom. They rule with an iron hand.

GETS TWO YEARS

J. C. GRAVES CHARGED WITH FORGERY RECEIVES SENTENCE.

SCHOOLING IS PAROLED

Most Pay Costs and Leave Liquor Alone—Other Cases Disposed of—Judge Ellison to Rock Port.

J. C. Graves, charged with forgery, pleaded guilty in circuit court Saturday morning and his punishment was fixed at two years in the state penitentiary. Sentence will be assessed against him probably late this afternoon. Graves was charged with forging the name of Simon Dixon to a check for $50 on the Parnell State bank. The check was cashed by the First National bank of this city.

Eugene Schooling, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was given a sentence of six months in the county jail and a fine of $100. For good cause shown, Schooling was paroled upon payment of the costs in the case and upon condition of good behavior. Some of the other conditions of the parole are that he is never to visit a saloon; that he is not to take a drink of intoxicating liquor, and that he is not to make goo-goo eyes. If the parole should be broken, he will have to pay the fine and also serve the jail sentence.

The case of state vs. John Talkington, Charles McCollom and Paul Wells, charged with stealing water melons, was nolle pros. by Prosecuting Attorney Wright.

The case of the 102 Drainage district against Patrick and Julia Toohar, was dismissed by the plaintiff.

Sheriff Wallace was allowed guard to take prisoners to Jefferson City to the penitentiary.

The divorce case of Phrana Cooper vs. Frank Cooper was called in court this afternoon. The case has been under advisement of the court since last term. The court will read the testimony as given at the last term of court and will then give his decision.

This afternoon, the case of Sunderland Bros. vs. Wm. Everhart, on an account, was on trial before a jury composed of Q. A. Gilmore, Jerry Vaughn, W. H. Carpenter, J. R. Jones, T. K. Harmon, W. M. Wyant, B. K. Anderson, H. E. Wright, J. W. Vert, Henry Westfall, J. H. Woodburn and G. W. Lucas.

Circuit court will adjourn late this afternoon to meet again on Wednesday, October 23. Judge W. C. Ellison and Court Stenographer Arthur Brewer will leave Sunday for Rock Port for the regular term of court for Atchison county.

DR. DODDS COMING.

To Give a Number of Sermons in Methodist-Presbyterian Union Services.

Rev. Dr. Samuel Dodds, who will be the special worker in the Methodist-Presbyterian union service, is well known to some of the people in this city. He held a special service last winter for the Presbyterian church and gave such eminent satisfaction that he has been recalled to the union service referred to above. Dr. Dodds is gentle in manner, original in thought, and he knows his Bible as a book of law, love and life. He puts faith before scholarship with such consistency that one can not fail to get the spirit as well as the letter of the law. He will hold two services a day, one at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when he will deliver his series on Mosiac institutions, and the other at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, when he will explain the Gospel of Luke. He can take an old, familiar text that you have always known and flash it before you in such a new light that you see more beauty and new meaning. He comes to begin his work on October 22. The co-operating churches are planning for a big chorus choir and other service features that will add to the attractiveness and power of the meeting.

According to a telegram Weather Observer Brink received from Chicago, frost is indicated for tonight.

TO WORK RIGHT ON

CONGRESSMAN BOOHER SAYS CONGRESS TO HAVE NO RECESS.

CURRENCY IS PROBLEM

Thinks Senate Will Pass Bill—People Have Confidence in Democratic Party, He Says.

Congressman Charles F. Booher, representative in congress from this district, is at his home in Savannah for a few weeks' visit. The following interview with Congressman Booher is taken from the St. Joseph Observer, Frank Freytag's paper:

"I do not expect the special session, now in progress, to come to a close before the regular session comes on—in other words, I do not believe that there will be a recess when the session now in progress is concluded. That is one reason why I came home now to spend a few days with my family and friends.

"It is the only time that I really expect to be able to spend at home before next July or August, as I do not think the regular session will adjourn before that time. I came home now simply from the fact that the house has nothing to do at present, and will not have until the senate sends over the currency bill. As you know, special sessions have specified subjects and we have completed our part of the work with the exception of the currency bill, with which the senate is now wrestling.

"Of course, I believe that the senate could act more quickly, but it didn't. When the senate determines to do business, it does. When it is not ready or not willing, it does not. So there you are."

Asked if the senate would pass a currency bill, Mr. Booher said that in his opinion it would. "The country demands it," said he, "and what the country wants and really needs a Democratic administration, such as we now have, is going to give it. I am not saying that the currency bill which is now before the senate will be passed just as it was introduced, and feel sure that it will not pass in just that state, but the one that is passed and sent to the house will be such a one as will give relief to the country and will meet, as far as practical, with the demand of the times.

"The currency bill is a tremendous problem—one of the greatest since the days of the civil war, but it will be handled fairly, conscientiously and well. No juggling is being tolerated by the senate, neither will there be by the house. The people want a dependable currency suited to the demands of the times, and the Democratic party is going to give it to them."

Congressman Booher said that, of course, in times of legislation on two such important subjects as the currency and the tariff it would be natural that capital should be cautious, but such does not seem to be the case. On the other hand, the wheels of commerce are turning faster than ever before and more business is being transacted than ever before known in the nation's history.

"As soon as the currency question is settled I look for the most extensive trade we have ever enjoyed. I look to see the great record of $1,700,000,000 of foreign trade done by us the year just closed eclipsed. The people have confidence in President Wilson and the Democratic party and are going ahead. You cannot give them any panicky feeling now.

"The new tariff schedules are now either in or almost ready to go into effect, and a tremendous movement of goods may be looked for—in fact, the movement has already begun."

One thing that Mr. Booher said will be especially pleasing to all Democrats, and that is that there will be legislation relative to the Philippines at the regular session.

"When the Democratic party in convention assembled made its platform it promised consideration to the Philippines, and this pledge, as well as all others made by the Baltimore convention, was made to be fulfilled, and not to be broken. The Democratic party is now on trial, and it is going to stand the test—and come out without a smell of fire on its garments.

"We have but little use for the Philippines. Eight thousand miles is too far away for us to trouble with defense in case of war, and we have but little use for them so long as we have land to give away in the United States. The spoilsman and exploiters who thrived under McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft are now pretty well entrenched there and it will be no sin to leave them in possession—and our hands off.

"I look for considerable legislation for Alaska at the regular session. We have a possession there that the people have no adequate conception of—it simply is a most wonderful country and not known to the average citizen.

"The resources of that country are tremendous," he continued, "and far too little understood. If they were there would be a great exodus there, and those who participated would reap benefits unexpected and unsurpassed. Now that a Democratic president and congress has stopped the attempt to steal the country which Roosevelt permitted, the people are beginning to find out a little of the wonderful resources of our northwest possession. The government will at this session bring it prominently before the world.

"I look for the regular session to be a long drawn out one—for there will be much to do. In fact, I do not expect to get home before the latter part of July or the first part of August."

Asked as to how he enjoyed a continuous session this summer, he remarked that it "was not so bad after all."

"The summer was not so extremely hot," said he, "and we had frequent and timely rains. While you people out here were sweltering in a drought we could hit a rainstorm at almost any time and there was always a breeze from off the Potomac and Chesapeake.

"The Missouri delegation all stuck it out. Of course, I cannot speak for myself, but it did seem to me that our fellows worked hard.

"Yes, of course, I am in line with the administration and the tariff and currency bills. To me they represent the embodiment of American wisdom.

"I shall be here but for a few days, as I feel that I should be at my post before the currency bill comes to the house."

Congressman Booher is looking well and says that he is in the best possible health.

"I never was afraid of work and shall not become timid now," he laughingly concluded.

ALLAN A. RYAN.

Son of the Financier,
Whose Testimony Was Damaging to Sulzer.

© 1913 by American Press Association.
Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, gave damaging testimony against William Sulzer in the high court of impeachment. His most striking points were: (1) That Sulzer asked and received from Allan A. Ryan $10,000 cash for expenses in his personal campaign, saying, "Tell your father I'm the same old Bill;" (2) That one week before the impeachment trial began Sulzer asked Ryan to go to Washington and see Senator Root and have him tell William Barnes, Jr., to direct the Republican members of the court to vote in favor of Sulzer.

MAY START SCHOOL

MR. BLEAKLEY MAY TEACH AVIATION HERE WITHIN MONTH.

GIVES PILOT'S LICENSE

Course Costs $300, Including Expenses—
Could Not Give Flight Friday
Because of High Wind.

W. A. Bleakley and T. S. Duby, the flying machine men, spent the greater part of the morning Saturday in getting their machine ready for shipment. The men will go directly to St. Louis from here and say that they have no other immediate date. Both men said that today would have been an ideal day for a flight, which shows how perverse the weather man can be at times.

Mr. Bleakley when interviewed this morning said that he and the owner of the machine, Mr. Duby, would probably start a school of aviation here, as there seemed to be a number of persons here who were interested in learning the art of flying.

The school will open within the next month, should the men decide to locate here. They offer the course for $300, which includes a pilot's license and all other expenses necessary to take the course. Contrary to the usual rule of aviation schools all breakages to the machine are stood by the owners of the machine.

No flight was given Friday by Bleakley on account of the strong wind.

KELSO HERE TO TRY CASE.

Grant City Attorney to Preside Over
Case of State vs. J. W. Hall of Hopkins.

In the case of state against J. W. Hall, the defendant, represented by Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison, took a change of venue and by agreement of parties Judge Edward Kelso, of Grant City, was called in to dispose of the case. He arrived in Maryville Friday evening, and was on hands this morning. The case will come up late this afternoon. The charge against Hall is carrying concealed weapons.

We were glad to meet Judge Kelso. He is one of the leading lawyers of the Worth county bar, and is said to be one of the finest lawyers in the district. He has been eminently successful in the practice, and his thorough training and forceful manner of trying cases has drawn to him a large practice.

We predict for Judge Kelso a great future. He has the ability to sustain any position of trust which he might be called upon to fill.

First Presbyterian Church.

The boys and girls of today know practically nothing about the Bible. They are strangers to its poetry, romance, history and eloquence. They have the vaguest conception of its mission. Some of the answers made in reply to the easiest questions would be laughable were they not indicative of such a profound ignorance. I have come to believe that the Sunday school must stand first in the minds and activities of all Christian people. The Sunday school faculty must be more carefully chosen than was Gideon's band, because they have a greater work to do. Don't send your children to Sunday school in the morning—bring them, and the time will be 9:45. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The sermon will be entitled "The Glory of the Twice-Born Life." Mrs. George Eaton and Miss Lois Farmer will sing. A debate will be the program feature for the Young People's club at 6:30 in the evening. The question will be, "Resolved that city life is more favorable to the development of Christianity than country life." At 7:30 o'clock the evening worship. The song service will precede the regular service. The sermon will be a further development of the morning theme, and will concern "The Labor of the Twice-Born." Mrs. Fred P. MORMONS ARE NEXT ON W. C. T. U. LIST

Plan War of Extermination on "American Harems."

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 11.—Branding Mormonism as "an agent to degrade womanhood," Miss Helen L. Hood of Chicago in the president's address to the fortieth annual convention of the Illinois White Ribboners here declared that the Women's Christian Temperance union would never rest so long as there are "American harems" of the Mormon sect remaining. Miss Hood said that 727,000 Mormons held the balance of power in seven western states.

"We have frightened the brewers and since we are nearing victory against booze, we should direct Women's Christian Temperance union influence against Mormonism, white slavery, cocaine, morphine and other institutions of evil," said the state president in conclusion.

SELLS POWER TO SETTLERS

Government Becomes Dealer in Electrical Energy Supplies.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Uncle Sam became a dealer in electrical supplies and energy transmission material when the interior department issued an order authorizing the sale of such material to settlers on public lands who were desirous of obtaining electricity from the government water power plants. The order is expected to be of great assistance in development on the reclamation projects in the west.

The order marks no innovation, however, for the government in December, 1911, and July, 1912, authorized the sale of cement, lumber and building materials to the settlers. The concession was found to be of great benefit to the settlers, and incidentally to the western country.

The aid of the government in distributing generated power also is expected to work benefits. The electrical energy probably will be used chiefly in pumping for agricultural and domestic purposes.

BLOW AT CIVIL SERVICE

Deputy Internal Revenue Collectors and Marshals Removed.

Washington, Oct. 11.—By the closest vote of the session, 111 to 106, the house voted to recede from its conference disagreement and to concur in the senate amendment to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, which provides for the removal of deputy internal revenue collectors and deputy marshals from civil service regulations.

The vote came after a protracted debate, in which many Democrats bitterly assailed the proposal as a direct blow at civil service and characterized it as a step backward toward the spoils system. The Democratic revolt was led by Representative Fitzgerald of New York and fifty-four Democrats voted against the concurrence.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE CONDITIONS

Reports Indicate Volume of Business is Enlarging.

New York, Oct. 11.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: Adjustment to new conditions following the enactment of the tariff bill has resulted in some irregularity, yet, in a broad sense, the situation reflects continued improvement. Reports indicate that the volume of trade is enlarging, the necessity of replenishing depleted merchandise stocks causing increased activity.

The paucity of supplies is so marked in certain lines that difficulty is experienced in filling immediate needs, with shortage of labor hampering some manufacturers. The cotton goods mills have orders on hand for the next three months.

The demand in both jobbing and retail circles continues brisk at the highest prices of the year for many products, although business has been restricted to some extent by the unsettled condition of raw material markets.

SULZER CASE IN JUDGES' HANDS

Final Arguments Made and Court Adjourns Till Monday.

A. B. PARKER FLAYS GOVERNOR

Says He "Stands Naked, Without Rag of Attempted Vindication Clinging to Mutilated Manhood"—Herrick Speaks in Defense.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Arguments in the case of Governor William Sulzer were delivered before the high court of impeachment and his fate now rests with his judges.

Upon reconvening Monday afternoon the court will decide upon its plan of balloting, whether it shall be done in open or executive session, and then take up the constitutional objections to the impeachment charges that have been raised by counsel for the governor. If the judges hold adversely in whole or in part to the contention of Sulzer's counsel, a vote on his guilt or innocence will follow. The next question to be decided will be whether he should be removed from office. Should this be decided affirmatively the judges then will vote on whether additional punishment, disqualification from ever holding public office in this state again, shall be meted out to him.

Final Arguments Delivered.

No more bitter criticism has been made of the governor and no kinder words have been said in his behalf than were heard in the court room. Judge Alton B. Parker, who for hours had argued the legal aspects of the case for the board of managers on the day previous, suddenly switched his tactics and showered the governor with a fire of invective and accusation of criminal wrongdoing. The governor, he said, had sought to hide himself behind his wife's skirts.

"Defense, defense, justification, prevarication, denunciation of his accusers, attempts to suppress and falsify testimony and efforts to cast blame elsewhere—each in turn," declared the attorney, "has been stripped from his quaking flesh until he stands now naked before this court without a rag of his attempted vindication clinging to his deformed and mutilated manhood."

Herrick Speaks in Defense.

To Judge J. Cady Herrick, chief of the governor's counsel, fell the task of saying the final words for the accused executive. His remarks stood out in strange contrast to the vitriolic attack of Judge Parker. The governor was pictured by Herrick as an honest, but eccentric man, to whom even the thought of committing a crime was a thing apart. The attorney did not seek to excuse the governor's methods of obtaining campaign funds and admitted that Sulzer had low ethical standards, but argued that no criminal intent had been shown, and therefore the charges had not been sustained.

MEXICAN DEPUTIES ARRESTED

Huerta's Troops Invade the Legislative Chamber.

Mexico City, Oct. 11.—One hundred and ten members of the chamber of deputies, who had signed resolutions of warning to President Huerta as the result of the disappearance of Dr. Belisario Dominguez and Senator Forch, were arrested and lodged in the penitentiary. Five other deputies who signed the resolution were absent when a cordon of troops was thrown about the legislative building and several hundred soldiers invaded the chamber.

The arrests followed a demand by President Huerta that the chamber withdraw the resolution, which carried the threat that the deputies would abandon the capital, owing to an alleged lack of guarantees for their personal safety.

The defendant said he had conducted between forty and fifty loan offices throughout the United States.

PRIZE BABY DEAD.

Eleven-Months-Old Child of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryant of Parnell Victim of Cholera Morbus.

Ruby, the 11-months old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryant of Parnell, died in Maryville Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock at St. Francis hospital, of an acute attack of cholera morbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant and their children came over to Maryville early in the week to remain until after the fall festival, and Mr. Bryant had charge of one of the attraction stands. The baby was well until Friday morning, when it is supposed the change in the weather caused its illness.

The body was taken to Parnell Saturday forenoon on the 10:42 train and the funeral will be held Sunday afternoon.

The baby recently took the prize at the fair at Blockton, Ia., on account of its beauty.

He received a broken arm, the ligaments in his right ankle broken and other bruises.

Mr. Roberts was working on the steel work for the lower part of the tank on the water tower. His home is in Ashland, Kan. He will be unable to work for six weeks or more.

Not Even Standing Room Could Be Secured Last Night at the Angell's Comedians' Show of "Ishmael."

Several hundred people were turned away last night at the big tent, unable to even secure standing room to witness the play of "Ishmael." Early in the evening it was noticeable that the crowd was moving toward the big tent, and before the time the curtain was to rise hundreds of people were unable to secure even standing room. It was one of the largest crowds ever seen under a dramatic canvas in Maryville. The Angell company is leaving a big reputation in our city. Their plays all week have been on a high standard and the public showed their appreciation by giving them a big business all week. A decidedly entertaining feature of the company is the Chicago Ladies' Orchestra. They entertain the public before the rise of the curtain and between acts, which is enjoyed by both old and young. It is the intention of the company to store their canvas here for the winter as from now on they play nothing but opera houses. The company will no doubt open their tenting season here next spring.

Had Good Crops.

Oscar C. Kennell, who, with his family, moved to Campbell, Minn., from Maryville last November, writes that he has had fine crops this season on his farm in that state. He threshed out 1,296 bushels of No. 1 wheat, averaging 14 bushels to the acre. He had 1,162 bushels of No. 2 barley, averaging 18 bushels per acre. Also 3,079 bushels of oats, averaging 41 bushels to the acre. His barley did not average as good as some others in the neighborhood.

In Police Court.

Fire-water proved the undoing of three celebrators yesterday who insisted on adding to the festivities of the occasion by partaking of too much alcoholic stimulants.

They were arraigned before Mayor Robey this morning and were fined $8.10 each. Those arrested were L. W. Shack, George Farley and Ralph Galloway.

SELECT YOUR SEED CORN.

Now is the Time to Select It From the Fields.

The following is what T. R. Douglass has to say about selecting seed corn:

There probably never was a time when good seed corn was as scarce as it is this year, and every Missouri farmer should make a special effort to select the best of this year's crop; otherwise he will be forced to buy bottom grown seed, which in many cases has given very poor results on prairie land.

The Missouri college of agriculture has found by careful observation and experiment that for best results seed should be selected from the field during October. It takes only one dozen good ears of seed to plant an acre. Any farmer can far better afford to take one day's time and select seed for his entire crop than to pay an exorbitant price for seed grown in another section of the state. One dead ear out of every twelve would cut the yield of a 50-bushel crop over four bushels per acre. Each farmer should go through his corn some time within the next three weeks and husk out twice as much corn as will really be needed for seed next spring. Hang this corn up in a dry, well ventilated place where it will be safe from mice and rats. In case there is no corn standing in the field, pick out the best seed ears while shucking out shock corn and hang these ears up for seed.

GOING ON THE WATER WAGON.

More Than Half of the United States is Now "Dry" Territory.

Nearly three-quarters of the area of the United States is "dry" territory. Half of the American people live out of reach of a licensed saloon. This is in a large measure the work of the Anti-Saloon League, the militant church in practical politics. The league has done more in twenty years than the Prohibition party has in fifty. For twenty years it has been testing and proving the efficiency of its political methods, until now it can forecast with a reasonable degree of certainty just what the people of any given part of the United States or the whole United States will do with the prohibition question whenever it is made an issue. It has become probably the most active and effective political agency in the country.

When the league was organized, twenty years ago, outside of a few thinly populated prohibition states there was hardly a spot on the map of the United States where liquor was not sold openly and legally. Today 72 per cent of the total area of the United States—2,139,746 square miles—is "dry" territory. There are nine states in which it is illegal to sell liquor anywhere in the commonwealth:

Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee, West Virginia. There are ten other states in which more than 90 per cent of the total area is "dry." These states are: Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Kentucky, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming.

Arkansas has just passed a law requiring a petition signed by all the adult white men and women in any community before a saloon can be opened, practically insuring statewide prohibition.

On the other hand there is not a single state that is entirely "wet." New Jersey comes nearest, with only four-tenths of 1 per cent of its area prohibition. Three-quarters of Pennsylvania is "license" territory. But Illinois and Missouri are each 72 per cent "dry" and 58 per cent of New York state is prohibition territory.—World's Work Magazine.

What the Elmo Paper Says.

The following is what this week's Elmo Register says about Dr. Neely: Since the item written in the last issue about Dr. Neely, sentiment toward him in this community has changed very much. It is now known that he has not acted in good faith while here among us, and many that were his friends at first are now satisfied to let the law take its course.

Dr. Neely is a man of ability in his chosen profession, and capable of doing great good and being a useful member of society, but the serpent entered, tempted him, and he fell.
